FROM THE PRESIDENT

Carla Hannay

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Helen Baker and Joyce Martin for stepping up to the plate to Co-Host our Christmas Dinner this year. This is the second time in a very short time that Helen has volunteered to chair this event, the most recent was Thanksgiving.

The Publisher of our newsletter has requested that all info for the Janaury Newsletter be in his office by December 8th. Therefore I will report on the outcome of the Christmas Dinner, the December 9th Potluck Supper, the entertainment and the Annual Christmas Golf Cart Parade, prize winners, etc scheduled for December 16th, and a New Year's Eve Potluck Supper hosted by Keith and Diane Steare.

As stated at the December Association Meeting a Nominating Committee has been formed and they will be contacting members of the Homeowners Association who are 6 month residents and hold a membership card for any interest in running for the Board. Please give this your serious consideration.

At this time the Board and I wish you all a very Happy and Healthy New Year.

CAN YOU HELP

I am willing to divide plants from my gardens again this year – to be sold at our annual Rummage Sale in February. All proceeds are for the benefit of our park. Last year we earned almost $300.00 from plants.

However, this year I again WILL NEED HELP with potting the plants. I will be digging plants -on- Wednesday, January 10 at 10 am so that they will stabilized and be ready for the sale. Rain date – Thursday, January 11 at 10 am. Randy Godsoe has offered to get the dirt for us to use. Please call me if you can help on Wednesday, January 10 at 10 am. The wonderful help we had last year was so very appreciated.

Also – to all residents- if you or your neighbors have any empty pots, hanging baskets, etc that we can use, please drop them off at my carport.

If you have any plants that are overcrowding your gardens, please let me know if you wish them separated and given for the sale.

Thanks you. Carols Gilchrist 186 Carissa St. 941-485-7043

And Then the Fight Started...

by Karen Post

Robert and Shelley were sitting without saying a word, yet the silence was loud. I was trying to be friendly when I accidently stirred things up. It reminded me of those old jokes that end with the line, "and then the fight started..."

My wife was hinting about what she wanted for our upcoming anniversary. She said, 'I want something shiny that goes from 0 to 150 in about 3 seconds.' So, I bought her a scale. And then the fight started...

When I asked what was going on, Robert didn't hear what I said. He knew I spoke but could not understand what I said. And then the fight started...

Shelley shared that yesterday they had met with their insurance agent, a young woman, who sat directly in front of Robert and he didn't understand her.

I pulled up his file and Robert has a profound loss, almost as bad as Blair's mother, MaryEllen.

When someone has this significant of a loss, it takes a lot of technology to amplify the right frequency so they can even hear the sounds. If we can increase the volume enough, then their own ability to process words determines success. Robert's discrimination is 68%, which means he can process only two out of three words. So Robert will have to fill-in or guess at the other words.

Having known MaryEllen I understood the pain, fear and frustrations that comes from living with someone with a hearing loss. I know that emotional pain of not being understood by MaryEllen. She wasn't trying to confuse my words, she just had to guess at so many. MaryEllen passed away in 2008 and she wore the best hearing aids back then, but they aren't anything like the amazing technology available now. Maybe if we had the current technology's power, sound reduction and speech enhancers she and I might have been able to talk to each other without confusion and strain.

We understand the strain and emotional pain that comes when living with someone who can't easily hear what you are trying to say. If you or someone you care about is not hearing well and this is straining your relationship, call for an opportunity to try the new technology.

WHEN "FLOATERS" AREN'T HARMLESS

by Steve Rollison

Susan's optometrist had just started her exam when he asked her, "How long have you had this floater?"

"It was some time in the summer," she responded. "I meant to ask you about it, but it hasn't been bothering me and I forgot all about it."

Doctor M. patiently explained that Susan's indifference could have had severe consequences. She could have even lost the sight in that eye entirely.

Most people believe that floaters are a natural part of aging that virtually everyone experiences. Indeed, it is true that most floaters are simply small clumps of cells that form in the clear vitreous gel that fills the inside cavity of the eye. The appearance of these little dots, circles, lines, or cobwebs are usually of little importance and reflect a normal aging process for most people. Although small floaters can be seen at any age, larger and more noticeable ones may appear suddenly when the vitreous gel liquefies as the person gets older.

The liquification is problematic only to the extent that its back surface begins to separate from the retina – a process called posterior vitreous detachment ("PVD"). During or after PVD, the retina may be torn, which causes bleeding in the eye that may appear as a cloud of new floaters or flashes of light. Tears in the retina are serious and typically need to be sealed with a laser in order to prevent a vision-threatening retinal detachment.

Doctor M. recommends that when a person experiences their first floater they contact their eye care professional immediately to have their retinas checked for tears that can be easily repaired while they are still small. This advice becomes critical when floaters are accompanied by flashes of light, which is a secondary indicator of PVD.

My question is why is there such a widespread belief that floaters are innocuous?

With all the bad information that gets passed around so quickly and easily these days, I always admonish readers to "confirm before forwarding," no matter the source of what they've read, so… please allow me to encourage you to at least ask you own eye doctor about floaters, and if you deem it appropriate, spread the word about floaters within your own circle of friends and family.

RESIDENT DIRECTORY INFORMATION FORM

Every year the Bay Lake Estates Home Owners Association publishes a directory of phone numbers so residents can get in touch with one another. Because we are a small, close-knit community most residents also choose to have their birthdays and anniversaries included in the directory.

I am working on updating our information for the next directory. Please fill out this form if you are a new resident or have changes to the information we currently have for you. You are welcome to drop the form off at our home at 106 Oleander St. or email me the info at jm.vandyke@comcast.net.
