On Saturday, December 10th, we kicked off the Holiday Season with our festive BLE annual Golf Cart Parade. There were about 12 nicely decorated carts and scooters, all decked out for Christmas.

The judges were selected from former president, Jane Ann Miller. They were Judy Gerarge, Stephen Medich and Michael Kloian. Each year, the three categories are: Most Original, Most Christmassy and the Funniest. Following a brief discussion on who wins what, our judges made their final decision.

The Most Original golf cart went to Helen Baker.

Most Christmassy went to Donna Loveless and Donna Mattix, with runner-up Kathy & Leonard Clark coming in a very close 2nd.

And, the Funniest was awarded to Debbie Giumarra for creating her version of “Cat in a Hat” (see photo).

Cash prizes in the amount of $25 were given to all three winners, compliments of our BLE Association. Cookies and Hot Chocolate was on hand inside the Clubhouse following the parade for everyone to enjoy.

Santa Clause, along with Mrs. Clause (George & Beckie Phelps) made a special appearance, as seen in the photo.

BE PREPARED (the original Boy Scout motto from 1907)

It's never too early to prepare for a wind storm, hurricane or an unexpected electrical outage. Preppers know all too well the many benefits of being prepared for any emergency.

Begin with investing in a well-stocked, self-contained, First Aid Kit, which can be used throughout the year.

The 2nd item I purchased many years ago was a single burner Coleman-type stove along with several screw on LP gas cylinders found in sporting good stores or your local hardware store. I did use my burner (outdoors only) for the second time to boil water for a fresh cup of coffee following the recent hurricane. Other uses for the burner would be to boil enough water to re-hydrate Freeze Dried food items, whether you purchase individual packages or #1 or #10 size cans of freeze-dried foods. Freeze dried foods, if left unopened, should have an advertised shelf life of 25 + years. Select your favorite food items, for example, a variety of fruits, veggies, or pre-cooked freeze-dried foods at: www.BePrepared.com. BePrepared.com also sells a large variety of MRE's, meals-ready-to-eat, which I found to be rather tasty and convenient, when you don't feel like cooking.

The variety of freeze-dries foods available today is endless. Whether you spend $100 or $1,000 dollars, every home should have a supply of freeze-dried foods for that unexpected emergency.

For delicious, individual, pre-packaged, freeze-dried food items go to: www.MountainHouse.com. With mouthwatering options like Pad Thai, Chicken & Dumplings, Beef Stroganoff, and breakfast foods ready to rehydrate, Mountain House meals can be cooked up in a flash anywhere, anytime. Campers and hikers love their freeze-dried products. Just add hot water and you'll be ready to enjoy a satisfying, home-cooked meal without any fancy prep work whatsoever. Whether you're trekking the Appalachian Trail or feeding several hungry humans at home, their freeze-dried entrée selections have you covered.

The 3rd item I purchased many years ago was a G-2-O water bottle, including a spare filter. Simply go to www.BePrepared.com and read all about this amazing water bottle hikers and campers typically purchase. The manufacturer claims it will clean pond water, river or stream water by removing 99.9% of all contaminates, foul odors and foul tasting items found in those bodies of water.

Although our community didn't suffer from a loss of running water or sewer usage, other parks like Ramblers Rest RV Resort went without power, sewer and water for about 2 months. ELS Corp, who owns Ramblers Rest, provided dozens of porta-johns for those residents along with cases of bottled water.

Other items I found was a necessity to have on hand was our local ACE hardware store sold lantern type flashlights, which I used to read a book with in the evening, since our cable and power was out for several days, that is until power was restored just four days following hurricane Ian, on Saturday night. The main objective is to be prepared.

CHRISTMAS DAY DINNER 2022

contributor Michael M Kloian

I'd like to extend a huge thank you to Robin Izbicki and Brad Bixbee for their help and undying support in the kitchen Christmas Day. Couldn't have done it without you both.

I'd also like to thank Barb Hickey, Jane Hodson and Bonnie Heintz for warming up those delicious hams everyone enjoyed and complimented. A very special thanks to Joyce Martin who raffled off my braised lamb shanks, ten people enjoyed, arranged the set-up, picked up the desserts and gathered all the volunteers to serve. I couldn't have done this dinner without you, Joyce. Thanks to Herb for the 50/50 drawing and Shand for checking in the guests at the door. Thank you, George for playing those timeless Christmas carols on the piano.

Major dinners like Thanksgiving and Christmas takes a lot of planning and thought as to what to serve, creating the grocery list, shopping, etc. No one person can accomplish a dinner or a lunch. It takes a fair amount of folks to pitch-in.

My apologies to all, but, since I was sooo busy in the kitchen I forgot to take a few photos of this event for our newsletter.

BEST CHRISTMAS DECORATED HOME FOR 2022

1st Place went to: Rick & Joyce Sutton of 191 Carissa St.

2nd Place went to: Inga Baughman of 216 Flamboyant St.

3rd Place went to: Tim & Dena Swain of 203 Carissa St.

Although Christmas 2023 is not around the corner, it's never too early to begin planning your home's decorations.

HOME OF THE MONTH IS BACK...

January 2023 Home of the Month goes to: Jim Swilley of 214 Flamboyant St.

When a home of the month is selected by the judges, our community manager, Leslee Jones personally hands them a $50 gift card

The Juliet's luncheon will be on Thursday, February 9th at 1:00 pm at PINCHERS. There will be a sign-up sheet at the clubhouse. Any questions, please call Helen. Please use the sign-up sheet in the clubhouse.

THE ROMEOS

Tim Swain 317-258-3400

The Romeos (the men of BLE) meet for breakfast usually on the 2nd and 4th Tuesday of every month at 8:45 at a local restaurant.

PLEASE check the sign-up sheet in the clubhouse for the location and more details and to be certain breakfast is still scheduled during the summer months.

NEWSLETTERS

The Bay Laker Newsletter's will continue to be placed in the clubhouse for pick-up until further notice. With damages to homes and some mail boxes missing we feel this is the safest way right now for them to be distributed.

HOA MEMBERSHIPS

HOA memberships are currently on sale for 2023. All homeowners may purchase a membership for $10.00 for the entire year.

Please note, when voting for the election of directors only one member of the HOA per household are allowed to vote, per #723 of the Florida Statue. Annual renters and occupants may purchase an Associate membership for $10.00 a year as well. All members may vote on HOA issues and expenditures. HOA memberships are important to receive discounts on certain events, like the Ice Cream Social, the Valentine's Day dinner and dance, and more.

Memberships will be sold at Saturday morning coffee and at association meetings, or by calling Steve Medich at 708-921-3367.

THE HUMANE THING TO DO (3 SHORT STORIES)

contributor Michael M. Kloian

On Thursday, November 24th, 2022, on News 8 (NBC), they titled this story, "The Good Samaritan." It appears a Tampa man noticed a house on fire, stopped his car, and ran inside. He rescued a woman and her cat from the burning home and saved her life and her cat's life. I'll bet the kitty was grateful.

A few weeks later, on News 8, someone lost control and accidentally drove their vehicle into a body of water. The person who witnessed the freak accident, dove into the water and saved a woman from drowning.

On 01/09/2023 NBC Nightly News aired this story: An 82 year-old Navy Veteran was working as a cashier at a local Wal Mart. He wasn't financially able to retire, which is why he was working at 82 years old. He struck up a conversation with a customer he had seen in the store on several occasions. The customer took it to heart and started a go-fund-me page for the Navy Vet and soon garnered over $100,000 to help him retire. The Vet, ever so grateful, was in tears. Soon thereafter he put in his notice and moved to Florida to live close to family.

It doesn't take much to help someone out, who is in need. If you have a "The Humane Thing To Do Story," you would like to share with BLE residents. Kindly submit your story to Editor@BayLakeEstates.org. Please put in the subject line Newsletter and your preferred column placement. If you do not receive a reply from me that I received your article, please call me before the deadline of the 12th every month.

ANNUAL PLANT SALE

contributor Shand Wentworth

This is your last chance to get involved with the Annual Plant Sale at Bay Lake Estates. We do not want to miss anyone.

If you have plants to separate and share or pots to donate, please call Shand Wentworth (941 451-9723). Here's to another successful sale, to benefit our community, on February 25th with presale the 24th of 2023.

A LITTLE HUMOR

RUMMAGE SALE 2023

Jane Ann Miller

The Rummage Sale for 2023 will be held on Saturday, February 25th from 8:30 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. The resident's only sale will be February 24th from 1-3 p.m.

Items will be collected during the months by Tim Swain 317-258-3400, and Joyce Martin 941-451-1624. Call one of them to make arrangements for items to be picked up, or to meet them at the shed.

We ask that donations be in a condition that you would want to purchase. If donating a small appliance please make sure it works.

The rummage sale is being hosted by the men's golf league. Chaired by Kenny Nifong and Dave Eungard.

SNOW BIRDS

a poem written by Beatrice Johnson contributor Michael M Kloian

Following a few showings last year, a prospect, Beatrice Johnson, handed me a post card with the following poem printed over a lovely sunset beach scene:

When the temperatures fall
And the snow flakes fly, so do I.
I didn't mind it when I was young
It was even fun;
But now the first sign of winter
I'm headed for the Florida sun.
They call us snow birds, but we don't care
We flock to Florida from everywhere.
Spoil ourselves with the warm Florida sun
Golfing, swimming, just having fun.
We've done our share of shoveling snow
So we'll be home when it's time to mow.

MY FAVORITE FILM OR TV SHOW

Please read “Miracles Do Happen” in this newsletter for a live interview between Sharyn Alfonsi of 60 Minutes and 15 year-old, Jacob Smith, a blind skier.

MIRACLES DO HAPPEN

contributor Michael M Kloian

In the world of skiing, there are two kinds of skiers. Those who like to stay on groomed runs and be guided gently around obstacles and those who like to ski the whole mountain and ski towards the obstacles. This is called freeriding. Man-made jumps, rails and half pipes are rejected in favor of the drops, jagged cliffs, and deep chutes created by mother nature.

The sport of freeriding took off in the 1990's and is now one of the fastest-growing disciplines in skiing. Given the risks inherent with the terrain, it attracts some of the bravest and most adventurous skiers in the world. But - as first reported on 60 Minutes last March - even among that group, 15-year-old Jacob Smith, a blind skier stands out. I thought you should see what he does, because he cannot. Just google 60 Minutes and click on the 60 Minutes link, then click on the search box and type in the name, Jacob Smith – and watch and see for yourself.

And that is Jacob Smith who is blind. Three years ago, he was just 12 years old as he made his way to the top of the 11,000 foot high lone peak, in Big Sky, MT., to ski down it.

Michael says, “I lived at the base of lone peak in a rented Condo for 9 months in 2016-2017 and I know for a fact that is a very steep mountain.”

Jacob drops into the Big Couloir – a narrow, rock-walled, 1,400 foot chute. That dot you see in a photo is him... making his way turn by turn. A wrong move can be catastrophic. The run has a 50-degree slope, which means if you slip down the couloir, there is little chance you can stop yourself.

“When you're standing at the top, you feel like if you move, you're gonna die,” said Jacob.

Jacob Smith: “Yeah, but I'm kinda just, like, well, I'm already up here, so I've gotta make it (LAUGHING) down somehow.”

He did. And became the only legally blind athlete to ski the legendary run.

Sharyn Alfonsi: “How did you feel when you made it to the bottom?”

Jacob Smith: “Excited that I did it. I didn't crash. I thought it was awesome. And then-- I guess we made it four more times, so I just (LAUGH) wanted to do it again.”

Jacob is still testing his luck and good sense. We (60 minutes) met him in January 2022 at a junior regional freeride tournament in Big Sky, MT. He's now 15 years old, competing against 40 other teenage daredevils, all of whom can see perfectly well.

This time, the background for all of the competitors' spectacular experiment with gravity was another triple diamond chute, appropriately named D.T.M.

Sharyn Alfonsi: “D.T.M. stands for...?”

Jacob Smith: “Don't Tell Mama.” (LOL)

Sharyn Alfonsi: “It is an insane run. Like, a 45 degree slope.”

Jacob Smith: “Yeah.”

Sharyn Alfonsi: “Do the judges give you any slack for being blind?”

Jacob Smith: “No. Zero.”

Sharyn Alfonsi: "Do you think they should?"

Jacob Smith: "No! I don't. I wanna be treated normal so I compete with other sighted skiers."

It's not an insignificant difference. We (60 minutes) worked with his doctors and our graphic artist to show roughly what Jacob can see on a run. He has extreme tunnel vision – and no depth perception on top of that – it's blurry – his visual acuity is rated 20/800, four times the level of legal blindness. Think of the big E on the eye chart. He would need it to be blown up four times in order to see it from 20 feet away.

So how does Jacob ski like this? His family keeps him on course.

On competition day, his little brother, Preston, patiently helps him hike to the top of the venue. It's so high, the lifts won't take you there.

Then his father, Nathan, helps him get down.

Jacob has a two-way radio turned up high in his pocket. His dad is on the other end at the base, somehow, calmly, guiding him down.

Nathan Smith: "It's on me to make sure I don't let him down, that I get him in trouble, you know, that I-- I have to guide him through narrower chutes or not go off a cliff."

Sharyn Alfonsi: "You have to be his eyes."

Sharyn Alfonsi: "You're more afraid of not succeeding than you are of getting hurt?"

Jacob Smith: "Yes."

Sharyn Alfonsi: "Why is that?"

Jacob Smith: "Because I've already lost my vision, so a couple broken bones and a couple more mishaps, I guess, isn't a big deal to me at all."

On competition day, Jacob suits up and sends it, finishing 19th out of 41 competitors. For Jacob, success isn't about the trophy, it's about freedom. Showing others how to negotiate obstacles, even when you can't see them coming.

If you have a 'miracle' story to share about you or someone you know, please send your story to editor@baylakeestates.org. Put NEWSLETTER in the subject line.

WHERE TO DINE – WHAT TO ORDER

contributor Michael M Kloian

Okay, this restaurant is NOT close-by, but if ever you are in or near Minnesota, you must visit the OWAMNI RESTAURANT, named the Best New Restaurant in the United States by the James Beard Foundation. The Owamni is located at 420 1st St. S. Minneapolis, MN 55401. A polished restaurant specializing in Indigenous Cuisine, including tacos, sandwiches & salads. In the summer of 2021, Sean Sherman, a forty-eight-year-old Oglala Lakota chef, opened a restaurant in Minneapolis, and called it Owamni, Nearly overnight, his restaurant became the most prominent example of Indigenous American cuisine in the United States. Every dish is made without wheat flour, dairy, cane sugar, black pepper, or any other ingredient introduced to this continent after Europeans arrived. Sherman describes the food as “decolonized”; his business partner and Owamni’s co-owner, Dana Thompson, calls it “ironically foreign.”

Solutions Not a Sales Pitch

By Karen Post

As a dedicated hearing specialist, some of my most rewarding experiences involve hearing about the positive impact I have had in people's lives. Here is what Mr. Bridle had to say about his experience:

"I have worn hearing aids for a number of years, on and off. I say on and off because it has been off more with my most recent pair purchased from another provider in Venice. I had an annoying problem with feed-back, which neither they nor another local provider were able to correct or alleviate. Both told me I should consider newer, more advanced models, which they would be happy to sell me. Since mine were similar, I felt they were more interested in making a sale than helping me. As a result, they wound up in my dresser drawer (not an uncommon situation.) I decided to give it one more go. A friend referred me to Blair Post at Contemporary Hearing.

What they said couldn't be done, was done by Blair.

No sales pitch on newer models; just a willingness to listen to and work with me.

After testing my hearing, he patiently worked with me to make adjustments to the programming. He also refitted the aids with new leads and cones. The ones I had were not sized or fitted properly and caused much of the feedback.

I was given a follow up appointment the next week at which time Blair fine tuned the programming and changed out one of the cones for another size. These were simple, inexpensive solutions to a fixable problem. Although I was advised of charges ahead of time, no payment was collected until I was satisfied.

I found Blair to have an abundance of knowledge, patience and humor, and his greatest attribute is INTEGRITY. He honestly wants to help. I would recommend Blair Post and Contemporary Hearing to any person desiring to improve their hearing."
